

Senior Family Readiness Support Assistant

Kimberly Goodin
1-800-237-2850 ext. 85458
kimberly.goodin@us.army.mil

Kimberly is the person to contact for Family Readiness Training. She provides training, management support, and program management. She also provides assistance to the State Family Program Director, Rear Detachment Commanders, and Volunteer Family Readiness Group Leaders in order to maintain stability on the home front and ensure mission success.

The Role of the FRSA

Family Readiness Support Assistants work directly with the command staff to assist with execution of the unit's Family Readiness responsibilities. They serve as the conduit for command information and coordination throughout their MACOM. In addition the FRSA's provide training, hands-on assistance and information to unit commanders and family readiness groups, and mentor unit FRG volunteers.

Family Readiness

One Force, One Family

Family Readiness Groups

Family Readiness Groups help educate and promote the following:

- Self-Sufficiency
- Resiliency
- Stability

The FRG is a command-sponsored organization of family members, volunteers and service members who, together, provide an avenue of mutual support and assistance. It is a network of communications among the family members, the commander, and community resources.

Being ready means having the knowledge, skills and courage to take care of yourself and your family ~ no matter the situation. Readiness is a permanent responsibility and it does not begin or end with deployment.

Family Readiness helps to increase retention of service members, family participation and ultimately contributes to successful achievement of the mission whether steady state or mobilized.

A Family Readiness Group

- Helps establish a link between the command and families
- Creates an avenue of mutual support and assistance
- Provides education and resources

Family Readiness is a force multiplier for successful missions.

Service member/family readiness is a key factor in unit, service member, and family morale.
